

5G Wins Top Honors At 2008 Interactive Media Awards

It's an honor to have our work recognized by the IMC. We feel strongly that our projects are world-class examples of how the Internet can be used to enhance a company's message and branding. This accolade is further proof of this fact.

"Congratulations! We are happy to announce that 5Gstudio.com has won the Outstanding Achievement award. This is one of the highest honors bestowed by IMA and an extremely challenging award to win. Your website has excelled in all areas of our judging criteria and represents a very high standard of planning, execution and overall professionalism."

- Interactive Media Council

The Interactive Media Council is a nonprofit organization dedicated to elevating the standards of excellence on the Internet. The Interactive Media Awards™ competition accepts entries from design firms around the world in hopes to elevate the standards of excellence on the Internet and promote the firms that are making a difference.

The judging consists of various criteria, including design, usability, innovation in technical features, standards compliance and content. In order to win this award, the site had to meet strict guidelines in each area.
