5G Wins A Class-A Award From Vincom

5G was given a Class-A award for their design of the Royal City project in Ha Noi, Vietnam

5G was given a Class-A award from Vincom, a large Ha Noi-based real estate developer, for their Royal City project design competition. Two out of eleven firms received this honor. The entries will be presented to the Vietnam Government for the final design selection of this this prestigious 15 mil+ sq. ft. project.

Situated adjacent to the To Lich river and located within the dense residential fabric of Ha Noi, The Royal City development redefines the landscape with its scale and unique patterning. Consisting of more than 1 million square meters, this microcosm consists of five residential towers, an office building, a three level mall, plus hotel and even scholastic components. These diagrams begin to demonstrate the symphonic character between the horizontal activity and vertical movement.
